"PRAISE THE LORD"

102 SHARPLEWELL LANE,
DALSTON, LONDON, E. MAR 21, 1884.

Dear Interior: (Continued from last issue.)

Our Caledonian Road meeting closed in blessing to-night with a sermon on the 2d coming of our dear LORD. A precious week of service—all too short for the best results. But we must close when our invitation expires and wait for the "good time coming," when we shall be unfettered as to coming and going by "committees," "boards," "pastors" or what not.

SUNDAY, March 9th.—Began at Bromley in a Bystal tabernacle, of which Bro. W. T. Lambourne is pastor. It is a new structure, seating 1,200 and holding 1,500 and one of the neatest audience-rooms I have seen. Bro. Lambourne is a young man yet, though an experienced worker for the LORD. We took tea in the vestry with him and his excellent wife. We reached the preaching place by the Blackwell branch of the North London Railway in 20 minutes from the Dalston junction. Alighting at the Poplar station, another 20 minutes—this time on South's "more," instead of the "iron horse"—brought us via East India Dock Road to the cor. of Brunswick Road and Zealand street, where, in the heart of a dense population of artisans and dock-yard men, this important enterprise has been carried on for several years. For two years Bro. L. wrought in a tent; then got the funds for building and now is progressing swimmingly, with a strong church and a fine band of workers.

We took to Bro. and Sister L. at first sight and I believe the attachment was reciprocal. May the truth bind us more closely together in all time to come. We had a noble audience to-night and the dear LORD filled the house with His glorious presence. A grand beginning. Praise the LORD!

MONDAY, March 10th.—A package of Earth Tunes from good Bro. Egerton, containing a report of my sermon on the "Brazen Serpent," evidently inserted to "ruin" me, as there were a number of most vicious "equities" in the same issue, showing the envious of the editor. I duly cut all out and inserted in my scrap-book, where I preserve other records of the same kind from both sides the "Herring Pond."

At the night meeting, a splendid attendance for Monday and the dear LORD gave utterance on a point that of late has taken most definite and engrossing shape to mind and heart, viz: the disaster that invariably accompanies any attempt to know God outside the Person of Jesus Christ. The "heavens may declare His glory and the firmament His handy work," but men have stupidly stared at these for 6,000 years and only grow on worse and worse. Jesus alone lets us into the heart of LOVE. Therefore our eyes are directed to Him alone. "Looking unto Jesus!" That is the only salvation. He is the only "Word" that receives the "secret of the LORD." It is all ignorance of the true God till then. When I know this, how simple life becomes! How mysterious vanishes! I only study God in the Person of Jesus. He is the "express image of His Person." Until I see Jesus kill some one, I will not believe God kills any one. Until I see Jesus sicken some one, I will not believe God sends sickness. And so on to the end of the chapter. How joyous the fact! We are shut up to Jesus for all our knowledge of God. Praise His Name!

TUESDAY, March 11th.—Another noble congregation to-night—rapidly increasing in numbers and interest. Dear Bro. Lambourne, with most unselfish zeal, upholds our hands. At the after meeting to-night he declared that he had received more light and blessing as to the meaning of scripture in these three days than 10 years past in the study of books. This most unexpected testimony to the power of the truth quite overwhelmed us with joy. "Praise the LORD, the parson is converted," said a rough Cornwall man, when Wm. Haslam was fully won over to a clean cut gospel and preached it from his Church of England pulpit a few years ago. We echoed the word of praise to-night in our hearts. What may we not expect in the way of blessing with an honest pastor and united people. Such a preacher as Bro. Lambourne is a rarity and I feel sure that unbounded blessing will come from this bold stand for the simple truth—letting go "consistency"—early training, everything, for Jesus. We were a happy lot, rilling home in the train, as we praised the LORD for His goodness and rejoiced over the "conversion" of a "preacher," for he, like Peter of old, can now "strengthen his brethren." Ever in Jesus, GEO. O. BARNES.

It cost $27,226 per mile to build the Pacific railroad. The New Mexican Central has been built at a cost of $24,000 per mile. The latter was fully as difficult to construct and as expensive, but Boston capital built the latter without Government aid.

The Emancipated Cook.

BY MISS WALLACE.
Shout the glad news. On far legs forth,
To the East and the West, to the South and the North,
Let the valleys proclaim it and the hills answer back,
I am free from dish-water, I am free from pot-black,
I am free from the smell of boiled cabbage and pork,
I am free from the lard and from the flesh-tink,
I am free from the tray, where for many an hour
My poor arms have ached from working up flour,
I am free from pot, I am free from kittle,
Where hot boiling grease has oft tried my wits,
I am free from the heat that caused sweat to flow
When the weather was cold and the thermometer low.
I am free from the grease, I am free from the dirt,
That, spite of all care, would adhere to my skirt.
Now, dressed like a lady, I sit all the day,
In graceful position and stitching away,
Or reading nice books, or writing long letters,
No tell my dear friends, I am free from my fetters.
At eve, if I please, I put on my bonnet,
And walk on the lawn, gaily singing a sonnet,
So happy am I that I am free from all gloom,
And I'm all the time singing "I am free! I am free!"

The Pike's Peak Road.

The Pike's Peak Railway, the completion of which within eighteen months is practically assured, will be in many respects, the most notable piece of track in the world. It will amount 2,000 feet further heavenward than the famous Lima and Orava railway, in Peru, which is now in operation to a point 12,220 feet above the sea, the highest that the rails have as yet attained. The obstacles that are being overcome in its construction are among the most formidable yet presented to engineering skill. The entire thirty miles of its length will be a succession of complicated curves and grades, with no piece of straight track longer than 300 feet. The maximum grade will be 316 feet to the mile and the average grade 270 feet. The line will abound in curves from 500 to 1,000 feet long, in which the radius changes every chain. Forty degree curves are numerous and there will be one of 33 degrees that will describe three quarters of a circle. The road is being built in a most substantial manner and will be laid with 40 pound steel. The running time will be about 15 miles an hour. The road will cost from $12,000 to $15,000 per mile.

The first section of eight miles, climbing from Manitou to a beautiful little dell called Crystal Park, about 2,000 feet higher in the air, is now under active construction, the company having 80 men upon its pay-roll. It is fully expected that the line will be in operation to this point by July 1st and to timber line, 18 miles farther summitward, by the close of the present year. Fully two thirds of the grading of the first section is completed and the line, climbing the foot-hill slopes, is plainly visible from Colorado Springs.

Kingly Excelsior

The New York Mercury said of it: "The dazzling brilliancy of its second scene, 'The Temple of Light,' fairly took the breath of its feet. The hundreds of coryphees, the premier danseuses and the male dancers, all in richly tinted costumes, the variety of their groupings and the precision of their movement proved simply bewildering. The final apotheosis blazed with hundreds of electric lights, indicative of the triumph of light and science, and in everything pertaining to it the current production surpasses anything of the kind ever attempted, either in Paris, London, Milan or New York." Every effort is being made to surpass in Louisville, the New York production so eloquently referred to above, and if good management and a lavish expenditure of money can do it, we may confidently look for one of grandest spectacles ever presented to an audience. The new Southern Exposition building is being prepared for it, and from May 12 to May 31, Louisville will be thronged with visitors to the wondrous exhibition.

An extraordinary scene took place a few days since at the Leek Cemetery, in England, on the occasion of the funeral of a retired farmer. On arriving at the grave the officiating clergyman, Rev. W. Berisford, vicar of St. Luke's, Leek, pointed out that the corpse's feet would not point to the Eastward, and although the sexton told him that the grave was in a similar position to hundreds of others, and showed him the headstones in confirmation, the clergyman insisted upon his point, referring to the difficulty which would be experienced on the day of the resurrection if the corpse was placed otherwise than with his feet to the East. A rule was procured, when it was found that the grave would just take the coffin the reverse way, and the ceremony was then proceeded with.

How TO QUIT DRINKING.—Just you quit, without oath, resolution or promise. Simply quit. If you have a young man's weakness for beer, wine or whisky, as the railroad man says, "Shut her off." There is no trouble about it. Let me tell you there is no harm in whisky. It does not and can not hurt you—if you don't drink it. That's all you have to do. Don't be a prohibitionist lunatic. Don't be a reformer. Don't be a fanatic; just simply don't drink and all the whisky that is made in America can't make you drunk if you don't drink any of it. Whisky never hurt a man who didn't drink it.—[Bob Burdette.]

In some parts of Dakota a man who wipes his feet on a door-mat and takes off his hat when he enters a house is called a dude.

LETTER FROM FRANKFORT.

Editor Interior Journal:
FRANKFORT, April 7, 1884.—There seems to be a dead calm in politics, notwithstanding the State Convention is only a month off and the national convention only about ninety days ahead. Already the democrats are scared and squinting—afraid of their own shadows. The name of that Indian chief, "Man-afraid-of-his-horses," would seem to suit our party very well. With the right on our side and the people ready to march like an army with banners, we are letting Sam Randall and his gang of protectionists bluff us on a bob tail bluff. The democratic party is committed to tariff reform and for it to recede one foot is irretrievable ruin. There are but two issues before the country: Who shall have the offices and what shall be done with the tariff?

Some say, "let us first get in and then we'll paint things red;" but the people of a great nation are not to have the wool pulled over their eyes in that style. There must be some material measure between the parties, else the republicans will again win on the old cry of "Let well enough alone."

The Kentucky democrats ought to speak out in their State convention in no uncertain tones and formulate their sentiments as to men and measures. The meeting here in May is of vital moment to the party, as it is one of the early conventions.

The Capital appropriation bill was the red rag that set the Legislative bulls to roaring and raging during the past week. Lexington gave a gorgeous banquet the night before the bill was to come up, which was attended by about half of the members. It was a very handsome entertainment and with the beautiful country and splendid drives, gave the visitors a most favorable idea of Lexington as a Capital site. But strange to say, the next day the House voted for Louisville as the proper place for the flag to float. There is no likelihood of the Capital being removed this session and the appropriation bill is more than doubtful. The recent kiss-and-make-up between Lexington and Louisville don't seem to inure to the blue grass city's benefit.

There is now strong talk of the Legislature adjourning the 25th of this month to an adjourned session next winter. The session may however be prolonged until after the State convention, which meets May 7th in this city. There have been over a thousand bills passed so far, but all the important legislation is banked up to wards the close of the session, with no indication of relief. The much needed revenue laws are untouched and it is to mature these that the adjourned session is advocated. As it now stands, everything is in a tangle, but much good may be accomplished before the close of the session.

Hon. J. W. Leach, Representative from Caldwell county, who died in this city a few days since, was one of the most useful men in his section of the State and as a legislator he was faithful and efficient. He was highly respected by his fellow members. He left an estate valued at $100,000. Mr. Leach was the third member to die since the election last August. The member from Grant county committed suicide before, or just after the Legislature met and Judge Payne, of Warren, who died some days ago, never took his seat. Two State officers—the Register and Librarian—died since the General Assembly met.

Monroe Morris, a farmer of Robertson county, Tenn., gathered three grains of corn from the tassels of an ear and planted again and produced a variety of corn which yields from three to five times as much as any other variety. He raised 21 barrels and 2 bushels to the acre on ordinary ground that had produced 6 barrels of common corn. The truth of these statements is vouched for by all of the officials of Robertson county, and the U. S. Government was so impressed with the value of the corn that it has purchased 500 bushels at $15 per bushel. Mr. Warren Wiley planted a small quantity of it last year and raised two or three bushels.—[Midway Clipper.]

DOMESTIC MISERY.—No unhappiness in life is equal to unhappiness at home. All other personal miseries can be better borne than the terrible misfortune of domestic disunion, and none so completely demoralizes the nature. The anguish of disease itself is modified, ameliorated, even rendered blessed by the tender touch, the dear presence of the sympathetic beloved, and loss of fortune is not loss of happiness where family love is left. But the want of that love is not to be supplied by anything. Health, fortune, success, nothing has its full savor when the home is unhappy; and the greatest triumphs out-of-doors are of no avail to cheer the sinking heart when the misery within has to be encountered.

It has become customary to attempt to vote something out of the Public Treasury for the families of office-holders who die "in harness," as it is called. This is a good thing so far as it goes, but does not nearly every honest worker die "in harness"? What is the difference between working for the State and working for an ordinary employer? For every office there is always a great rush. There is no scarcity of public servants. They are often paid a great deal more than they earn. If every officer who dies "in harness" is entitled to pecuniary consideration, so is every good citizen; for who serves the State better than a good citizen? If the public money is to flow, let it flow so that every worthy man may get his share.—[Padman in C. J.]

The Lone Navigator.

During the high water a man was seen going down the Arkansas on a log. As he was passing Little Rock several men sprang into a skiff, rowed out to the lone navigator, and said:

"Climb in."
"Climb in what?"
"In the skiff. Hurry up!"
"Wall, stranger, I'm pretty well fixed. Don't take no work to move along."
"Where are you going?"
"Down the river."
"We know that. Where you from?"
"From up the river."
"Of course you are—"
"What made you ax, then?"
"What are you doing on that log?"
"Travelin'."
"What do you want to fool with us for? Don't you know you'll drown if you keep on this way?"
"Won't drown if I keep on this way. Ef I waster to git off in the water I mout drown."

"Where is your family?"
"Scattered erlong."
"Did your house wash away?"
"Sorter. My wife's back yander on a cottonwood log an' my son Bill's comin' along som'ers on a poplar."
"Why don't you come to the shore?"
"'Cause it don't cost nothin' ter ride."
"You'd better come off and get a drink of whisky."
"Dinged if I don't do it. Feller back here wanted me to come out and hear him preach, but he didn't have the right kin' of gospel. Now, fellers, pull for the shore as fast as yer ken."—[Arkansas Traveler.]

MARCH 19, '84.

W. P. WALTON.

SENATOR GARNETT has offered a bill, which is made the special order for the 10th inst., to regulate the number of peremptory challenges and the manner of selecting jurors in felony cases. We have not seen a copy of this bill, but we trust it provides for a reduction of the number of challenges allowed the defense to the number allowed the prosecution, at any rate to equalize them. As the law now stands, the counsel for a law-breaker can almost pack the jury in favor of his client, or at least secure enough men of a fellow feeling to see that no verdict is made unless it be of acquittal. A bill embracing these ideas has been presented in the Ohio Legislature and there is every reason that it will pass. We do hope our Legislature will redeem itself by doing likewise and thus give the law-abiding men a chance.

The question of holding another Press Association is being agitated and in the connection the Shelbyville Sentinel makes the best suggestion we have seen. It is, instead of taxing any town in the State with the fraternity and its accompanying following of dead-beats, that President Johnston arrange for a Western and Southern excursion to embrace Colorado, Texas, New Mexico, etc. We heartily second the suggestion, provided none but accredited newspaper men are permitted to go as a part of the association. Such a trip would give our closely confined editors a chance to see the world and by getting an insight into the enterprise of the western cities, make them less hidebound and more progressive in their ideas.

In response to an inquiry from the Legislature, Auditor Hewitt states that there will be on the 30th of June a deficit of $477,991.47 in the State Treasury. This estimate is made on the immediate adjournment of the Legislature and will be increased at the rate of $1,500 a day, besides appropriations, as long as it remains in session. As it has done nothing of note so far and as the presumption is well-founded that it will do nothing, we ask in the name of economy that the body adjourn and let its members go to planting corn.

BLAINE will have the almost solid support of the Pennsylvania republicans at the Chicago convention as most of the districts have instructed for him. He is by far the best man in the republican party and if we are to have a continuation of the party in power, which we hope and believe a just God will forbid, we had rather see him President than any of them. Arthur, it is said, is beginning to see that his chances for a four years' more of office is exceedingly slim and his friends are getting up an Edmunds boom.

GEN. WILLIAMS C. WICKHAM, a leading republican of Virginia, and a member of the State Senate, testified before the Danville investigating committee that there had been no unlawful combination against the colored people and that in his opinion, gained by considerable travel over the State, the last was one of the purest elections ever held in it. And his word is worth more than that of the Johnnie Wires and other political tricksters, who are trying to make capital out of the Danville affair, put together.

THE Capitol removal question has cost the State many a dollar during this session and has been a serious obstacle to more important business. The House spent three days wrestling with it last week and the matter is no nearer solved than it was five years ago. It seems to us that it ought to be settled one way or the other and forever afterwards eliminated from the attention of the Legislature; but so long as Frankfort and Lexington give the members free lunch we fear it will not be.

NEW YORK dudes are all torn up over the decision of the governors of the Union Club, suspending Livingston for five years because he refused to apologize for calling Langtry's shadow, Freddie Gebhardt, a "coward and a liar." Mr. Livingston evidently believes that the circumstances bear him out in using the epithets, and under the circumstances, we admire his pluck in sticking to his original proposition.

THOSE persons who imagine that an over-weening loyalty to the party animates those publishers who keep the call for a State democratic convention in their columns for months, to the exclusion of better reading, are wrong in their diagnosis of the case. It is a matter of economy in composition and the same papers would run a dead-head electrolytic advertisement with equal alacrity.

HAVING tired of the quail-eating fest, the New Yorkers are now deeply interested in whether a certain glutton will eat 60 eggs a day for five days, as he has wagered to do. He had gotten away with 180 at last accounts and the silly-minded people interested in the silly fest were delighted.

WE are glad to observe that the charges against Mr. C. Jay French, Superintendent of the 5th Railway Mail Division, have been thoroughly disproved before a commission and that he will continue to conduct the affairs of his office in the usually satisfactory manner.

THE attention of the Richmond Register is called to the fact that the Legislature passed long enough in its mad desire to declare every branch and brooklet in the State a navigable stream, to order that hereafter a certain creek shall be a river.

THE Boston Post declares its ticket to be Bayard and McDonald. Turn it "end for end" and it will take like wild fire.

THE Postal Telegraph job will not get through Congress this session, we are happy to say. The Senate committee favors it, but the House committee voted 8 to 2 that it was inexpedient for the government to undertake the business. With the Post-office, the Telegraph, the Internal Revenue, Custom and other offices, manned to the idea of the controlling party, such a thing as a change of the politics of the administration would never again be known.

It is estimated that the government makes a clear profit of $7,000,000 on the fractional currency it issued during and just after the war. The total amount put into circulation was $46,000,000 and although the redemption begun in 1874, but $30,000,000 have been redeemed. The rest is either worn out, lost, destroyed or held as curiosities, thus making the United States the gainer by the amount named.

THE Harrodsburg Democrat has changed to an eight page paper and is much improved. The name of our old friend and employee, John G. Pulliam, now appears at its mast, as Superintendent of the Printing department.

GARRARD COUNTY DEPARTMENT

Lancaster.

—Worthless dogs have been playing havoc with sheep in this community. They have already killed 35 or 40 for Jno. S. Gill and 30 for Mrs. Zack Ekin. The losses will amount to over $400 for these two parties alone, while others over the county have lost enough to make equally as much. All the dogs in the U. S. are not worth that amount. A war of extermination should be declared against the worthless curs. Mr. Gill informs me that he has kept an accurate account of his losses on sheep killed by dogs and it now amounts to $1,200. Something should be done by the Legislature to rid the country of this trouble.

—The republican brethren are to meet to day (Monday) at the court-house for the purpose of appointing 12 delegates to the State Convention and the same number to the 8th Congressional District Convention, both of which are to meet in Louisville on the 1st of May.

—Rev. Gen. Clay Smith will preach at the New Providence church next Sunday, on which occasion church officers will be ordained. Dr. Wishard, the evangelist, will begin a protracted meeting at the Second Presbyterian church on Wednesday night.

—Mr. L. F. Struve, late of Harrison county, on Friday purchased the desirable town property of W. G. Proctor on Fourth street. Possession will be given on or before the 15th inst. The county clerk on Monday morning recorded a conveyance for 160 acres of land from Julia A. Jett's heirs to Nannie S. Jett. The land lies about 34 miles from town one mile North of the Lancaster pike in this county.

—Mr. W. J. Lyle's fine mare "Lou Coons" by American Clay, the dam of George Wilkes, Jr., last week dropped a fine horse colt by Messenger Chief. Dick Elmo by St. Elmo, who was sold by Clay Powell, of Hustonville, 12 years ago at the Stanford fair for $500, is now making the season at the farm of Mr. W. L. Caldwell in this county. It will be seen that Dick after a long absence is gradually working his way home again.

—Barney Croson, of Philadelphia, shipped on Saturday to that city seventeen good coach horses. While here he made his headquarters at Bruce & Itarian's livery and sale stables. On Friday Mr. Croson and Mr. F. T. Fox, of Garrard county, made the following exchange: Mr. Croson gave Mr. Fox $225 in cash and a 3-year-old gelding by Messenger Chief out of Paris Maid (record 27), for a Messenger Chief mare, 6 years old out of a pedigreed mare.

—Mrs. John Grundy, of Marion county, who has been visiting friends in this vicinity, will go to Stanford on Wednesday, where she will be the guest of Mrs. Wm. P. Tate. Misses Celia Groesbeck, Annie Vaughn and Beatie Cohen, of Lancaster, were in town Saturday, the former the guest of Miss Nannie Bitterton, the two latter of Mrs. J. H. Davis. Mr. Sam F. McGuire, who is connected with the office of the Grand Treasurer of the Knights of Honor, was here from Saturday until Monday morning on a visit to his family. Mr. A. M. Swope, of Lexington, was at the Gilecher Hotel from Saturday till Monday.

—On Sunday about two o'clock a young colored man about 22 years old named Mack Vandever shot and killed his uncle, Stephen Carpenter, aged about 65 years. The shooting occurred in front of the elevator of Potts, Proctor & Co., near the depot in the presence of a considerable number of people, white and black. There had been bad feeling between the parties for some time caused by a suspicion on the part of Carpenter that his nephew was paying improper attentions to his (Carpenter's) daughter, a young girl who has about reached womanhood. On that point Vandever denies the accusation in toto, declaring that he has never disturbed the girl and has had no wish to do so. The ill feeling from the above cause has been aggravated by the fact that some time last week Vandever slapped Bob, a 12-year-old son of Carpenter. A few minutes before the shooting Vandever passed Carpenter's house, which is about 150 yards West of the elevator, when Carpenter came out and began an angry conversation with him which ended as witnesses will say, by Carpenier declaring he would go in his house and get his pistol and kill Vandever. As he went in the house Vandever left and walked rapidly towards the depot and had reached the elevator when Carpenter overtook him and resumed the quarrel. Mr. F. W. Handman, whose attention was now drawn to the parties says that the first thing he heard was Carpenter call Vandever a d—d s—of a b—, to which the latter replied: "Uncle Steve, I've said I'd kill any man who called me such a name as that. I've been told that you've threatened to kill me." Carpenter answered "I said I'd kill you if you didn't keep off my place." Vandever then said something which Mr. Handman did not hear which Carpenter pronounced a d—n lie and advanced towards Vandever with clenched fists. Just then Vandever drew a pistol from his coat pocket and fired two shots. As the second shot was fired, Carpenter stooped down, picked up a stone and threw it slightly striking Vandever on the left side of his face. Carpenter then reeled and as he fell Vandever fired again and then walked rapidly in the direction of Col. W. F. Evans' farm where he has been employed as a laborer. A crowd soon started in pursuit, but although Vandever had only five minutes start he has not, up to this writing, been seen since he first passed out of sight. Dr. I. S. Warren examined the body of Carpenter, who was dead almost by the time he fell to the ground and found three wounds on his person. The first, in the left breast just above the nipple; the second in the right arm and the third in the right side below the ribs. The first and third wounds were mortal. Col. W. F. Evans, who has had Vandever in his employ since last October, says that he has been a quiet, orderly boy and a faithful laborer. Stephen Carpenter and George Vandever, Mack Vandever's father, are twin brothers and were raised in Casey county each taking the names of their masters who owned them in slavery times. No arms, save a pocket-knife, were found on Carpenter's body. It is said that when he went in the house for his pistol his wife hid it and would not tell him where it was and that he then asked for his gun but was told that it was at the house of a neighbor.

HUSTONVILLE, LINCOLN COUNTY.

—Mrs. Albert Pardy died on Friday night.

—The M. and E. (late L. and I.) literary association met Friday evening. An unusually large number of interested visitors were present. The statement that these meetings were to be discontinued immediately, was premature.

—James Reid, who recently went to Kansas, has returned in the grip of a terrible, or quailian ague. Anthony Ham, of Shelby City, and El Hood, of Washington county, with their families, are here on a visit. D. Taylor is composing a poetical work setting forth the excellence of the Weatherford Hotel. Al Hoffman is likely to become poetic on a more tender theme. J. B. Green is off for the city for new goods. You will hear from him on his return. Mrs. S. A. Goode has moved to spend a while with her son, at the stone house, which has been greatly improved recently. Miss Nannie Cooper is seriously sick.

—Many of our sober citizens were perplexed last week by the mysterious movements of a gentlemanly stranger in and around our village. Armed with paper and pencil he perambulated the streets and alleys, pausing in front of each building, threading the alleys, inspecting the rear apartments, taking copious notes and drawing suspicious-looking diagrams. Violations of bold burglaries, remorseless incendiaries and dynamite fiends began to be discussed with bated breath. Some of the more timid, whose imaginations had been fired by the reports in the Register, adopted the belief that a couple of men had taken possession and was recklessly running the town. Suspicious eyes followed the motions of the intruder and sleepless vigils gave evidence that the people were on their guard. At length a committee waited on J. W. Hocker, with whom the stranger had been seen, and learned that he was Mr. Burlock, a representative of the Royal Insurance Company, on a tour of inspection in the interests of the company. Of course the panic subsided.

—A very little school-girl recently varied the monotony of the Friday afternoon declamations by reciting, with evident feeling the following:

King Solomon, the wisest man
The world ever saw.
Was skilled in all the arts of peace,
Logic, logic, literature and law.
But Solomon with all his wit
Could not get over this—
There's hell and later everywhere,
In gaining earthly bliss.
Heread his books with eager care,
And pondered topics fresh,
And then decided "studious are
Most wearying to the flesh."
I think old Sol was "mighty right,"
—I prove it day by day—
With studying much I'm wearied quite
And wasting time away.
Then, when within my little grave,
My bones are laid to rest,
Just write this for my epitaph:
"She died by books oppressed."

The largest stock ever in Stanford and the best to be found in Central Kentucky, embracing about twenty five different styles from the leading manufacturers in the United States. Persons contemplating buying a vehicle this Spring should select the same or place their orders at once; for at this season all manufacturers of first-class vehicles are invariably over-run with orders and if the vehicle wanted is not on hand, it will require from four to eight weeks to obtain it; four weeks being required to make, finish and dry a first-class job ready for shipment, under the most favorable circumstances.

All work sold by me will be found to be such as I represent them, unless I have been deceived myself, and in that event the purchaser will be fully indemnified. Call and examine my stock and I will do my best to please you in style, quality and price. You can get as good vehicles from me and at as reasonable prices as you can obtain anywhere else and get a guarantee on them, besides that is worthless to you when buying away from home. ONE of the handsomest pieces of painting we have seen lately is a mirror which Mrs. E. P. Owsley has just completed. The flower girl, the roses and other objects are exceedingly well done and show skill of an order rarely developed by an amateur.

PITTSBURGH.—Mr. J. W. Bastin writes that this town, which was so badly used up by the cyclone, is fast assuming its old appearance. None of the losses are as great as first reported and that of the Laurel Coal Co. will not exceed $500 and it is open ready to do a full amount of business. All the companies are preparing for a big run of coal this fall.

ADAM CAIN, aged about 70, was run over at Penick, below here on the L. & N. Saturday and fearfully mangled, the engine and ten freight cars passing over him. He was taken to Lebanon, where he lived only a short time. From what we can learn, the railroad company was not to blame for this or the other accident mentioned in this paper, both men were drunk and placed themselves in perilous positions.

A FIRE which broke out about noon Saturday and which is unexplained, burned that portion of the poor-house property near Crab Orchard, known as the "paupers' row." It contained 12 rooms and most of the movable furniture was gotten out. The property was valued at about $1,200 and was insured for $800 in the Lancaster shire. There was great danger that the main building would go, but citizens from Crab Orchard and the vicinity having arrived in time saved by an almost constant stream of water thrown by the bucket brigade. There were two or three cabins on the premises and in these the paupers will be kept till a new house can be built.

JUDITH FINLEY is a Judge after our own heart. There is no milk and water doing about him, but in all cases demanding it he takes the masculine view by the horns. Last week one of his bonded prisoners was taken in charge by deputy U. S. Marshall Brown for a violation of the revenue laws and when Judge Finley wanted him he was told the state of the case. He immediately issued a rule against Brown to bring the prisoner before him. He refused to do so and the Judge promptly ordered him to be put in jail 30 hours for contempt of court. He served his time and we learn he has brought suit against the Judge for $10,000 for false imprisonment. It is an interesting question and we hope that the Judge will come out on top. But it is gratifying to know that this conflict of authority is not between a democratic Judge and a Government officer, else political capital would likely be made of it.

THE election for city councilmen occurred Saturday and towards the last some interest was injected into the race by a certain class of whisky men, who strove to defeat the old board by representing to the negroes that by voting for a certain board, they could be sure of having the ordinance prohibiting hogs from running at large repealed. A special effort to defeat Col. Welch, who has made a most excellent councilman, was made but we are glad to chronicle that it was unsuccessful. Four of the old board, Wm. Daugherty, Jno. J. McRoberts, M. D. Elmore and Col. Welch, were re-elected and three new men, J. E. Bruce, S. S. Myers and I. M. Bruce, were elected, and a very good board they will make. The hog ordinance will continue in effect and the whisky laws will be enforced too, and that's why we smile. Judge W. R. Carson was re-elected city Judge without opposition and received nearly all the votes cast.

BRAZILIAN Russell county sweet potatoes for seed. Bright & Curran.

MR. A. CAMERON wants 40,000 feet of lumber. Address him at McKinney, Ky.

ALL persons owing us last year's account, will please call immediately and settle. We need the money. Edmiston & Owsley.

We shall have sun time hereafter. The magistrates don't intend that railroad corporations shall fix our time if they do fix our freight rates.

If you want a suit of clothes, come and see us. We have just received a large line of new clothing in men's, boys' and children's. Edmiston & Owsley.

MR. E. B. BEAZLEY was elected Superintendent and John M. Hall Assistant of the Richmond Junction Sunday school, Sunday. The prospects are that the school will do a great deal of good.

MR. ITALIE, the sweet scented drummer whom the boys at Harrodsburg gave a cold bath in a convenient pond last winter, when he went to meet an alleged young lady by moonlight alone, was here this week. He is about as hard a looking dude as ever attempted a wash.

ALF BURNETT, the old face maker, who has exhibited himself in every city, town and hamlet in the United States, is dead, after a short illness in Cincinnati. The last night the poor old fellow was here he couldn't help but make a face when the curtain rose on a $4 house.

THE operation known in surgery as "Lithotomy," was performed on Mr. R. W. Givens, Saturday, by Dr. Johnstone, assisted by Drs. Peyton, Carpenter, Hunn, Blough and McClure. The stone was found to be as large as a walnut and it was very successfully crushed. The patient who is 60 years of age, stood the operation well and hopes are entertained of his speedy recovery.

KILLED BY THE CAR.—G. B. Green, who was employed by the Livingston Coal Company, as a weigher, was run over by a freight train Saturday night, near Gum Sulphur. One leg was cut off, the other nearly so and both his upper and lower jaw-bones were broken. He was put aboard the caboose and Dr. Peyton and Reid telegraphed to go to the Junction to render the necessary surgical attention, but when the train arrived there the poor man was found to be dead, having expired a little before reaching the Junction.

COUNTY COURT.—A. F. Evans and Dan K. Garrard were sworn in as attorneys yesterday. The will of Roy Stewart was admitted to probate. After stipulating that commissioners shall be appointed to allot his widow's dower and giving her the silverware and household and kitchen furniture, he will his real and personal estate to his daughters, or their heirs, to be equally divided between them. His widow, Mrs. Susan Stewart, and J. S. Murphy, are appointed to execute the will. Mrs. Stewart declined and Mr. Murphy qualified with W. H. Murphy as security. The court then appointed James A. Harris, Wm. Burton and John Bright to allot the dower. The justices met with the court in the afternoon and appointed a committee consisting of E. W. Brown, R. H. Brown and W. M. Garrett to adjust and settle with the Insurance Company for the loss of the Poor-House property. Another committee was directed to see if the Court-house needed a new roof. "Squire George P. Bright moved it and it was unanimously adopted by the court that the County Attorney direct Capt. Richards to ret the Court-house clock to the sun, or true time. We heartily thank Mr. Bright for this as we have all along contended that the clock should not have been changed.

RELIGIOUS.

—Our readers who can attend should bear in mind that the new Presbyterian church at McKinney will be dedicated next Sunday. Rev. E. O. Gernert, the noted evangelist, will officiate. A protracted meeting will begin there next Thursday night.

—The ladies who united in the morning prayer meetings during the progress of the late revival at the Baptist church, have agreed to continue them. That church being on a quiet, retired street is deemed peculiarly suited to the purpose, hence they have secured the privilege of using it, and will for the present meet there each Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Nothing denominational will attach to the meeting, and ladies of every religious faith are earnestly desired to attend.

—The Carrollton Democrat in speaking of the revival there says Rev. H. C. Morrison who has been doing the preaching until yesterday morning, has produced a fine impression on all, and upon the affectionate of the Methodist people has taken a strong hold. Immense congregations attended every service and were always spell-bound. He is quite a young man with good presence and considerable magnetism. He is a fluent and forcible speaker; his remarks abounding in felicitous expressions and apt illustrations. These qualities, with his clear enunciation and simplicity of style, supplemented by a manner which is always more or less dramatic, make him an excellent revivalist, while at the same time he has enough information, yes and enough theology, to make him a good every-day preacher. He left for Stanford Friday.

—Eld. J. B. Jones succeeded by hard work and the assistance of Bro. J. S. Murphy in raising the necessary funds, $1,100, to pay off the debt that has been hanging over the Christian church so long and Sunday morning announced from the pulpit the result of his labors. Great credit is due him and the church as well as the community at large owes him genuine gratitude. He will continue to preach at the church each night this week. His sermons are full of piety and good sense and large crowds are drawn to hear them.

LAND, STOCK AND CROP.

—Corn drilled and Oiler chilled Plow cheap at T. R. Walton's.

—A Trigg county Leghorn hen is said to have laid 118 eggs in 84 days.

—Wheat for May went down to 81 cents in Chicago Saturday and 77 for cash.

—Leonatus, Jack Chinn's great racer, has met with another misfortune and will be permanently retired to the stud.

—County Court here yesterday was a dull one, notwithstanding there was a good crowd in town, and but little money changed hands. Capt. Bash reports 150 cattle on the market and very few sold, buyers not willing to pay the prices asked. No mules were offered. Plug horses brought from $30 to $120. There were some private sales of cattle. J. C. Fox bought of Caron & Gove 35 7-year-olds at $30 per head and 16, from other parties at $27 per head.

—The Horse Show yesterday was up to the usual high standard, but the exhibition was greatly marred by the almost solid sheets of dust that enveloped everybody and everything. T. L. Crow's Smuggler, a large bay, was in beautiful trim and showed off finely. He has one of the best pedigrees of any horse in this section; R. H. Crow's Nobby, a fancy black, was another very fine horse, with a first class pedigree; W. G. Dunn's Abdallah Messenger, with the best of trotting blood in his veins; G. M. Givens' Waterloo, with a record of 2:30; E. S. Powell's Abdallah Glencoe, a beautiful, combined stallion and an extra trotter and saddle animal; Wm. Hubble's On Time, who has proved his good qualities and Wray & Wakefield's thoroughbred Norman, Champion, all showed good handling and were much admired. S. H. Baughman had his fine Norman on hand; Mr. Peacock, of Garrard, exhibited a trotter; E. T. Fox's Messenger Chief, Jr., and Bunko and J. S. Carpenter's Wallace Denmark and Prince Denmark. There were perhaps others, but in the dust and confusion we failed to get their names. Mr. Levi Hubble showed two of his fine Jacks, Prince and Roscoe Conkling, and they kept the air resonant with music. Pete Busby also showed a good Jack.

Republican Convention.

The republicans of Lincoln county in convention assembled, in obedience to the call of the county committee, do

Resolved, 1 That they approve of the respective calls of the State and National Committees for conventions to be held in Louisville and Chicago and pledge themselves to support the nominees of said conventions.

2 That they reaffirm their adherence and faith in the time honored principles of a free ballot and a fair count, the protection of home industry and American labor against the pauper systems of European despotism.

3 That they favor sufficient appropriations by the national government to a system of common schools, so that the children of every person in the land, be he ever so poor and humble, may have the rudiments of an education and an equal start in the race of life.

4 That they endorse the able and efficient manner in which the present incumbent, Chester A. Arthur, has conducted the executive department of the national government and that we believe that the gratitude of the republican party and the American people is due him, and instruct our delegates to the State convention to use all honorable means to secure his nomination.

5 That the delegates are requested to vote as a unit on all questions that come before the convention.

6 That the EXTERIOR JOURNAL and the Danville Tribune, Kentucky Republican and Somerset Republican are requested to publish the proceedings of this meeting.

The following gentlemen were appointed delegates to the State convention, to be held in Louisville, May 1, Lincoln county being entitled to twelve votes:

George H. McKimney, George M. Davis, on, B. G. Alford, G. W. Geary, Joe Kent, J. A. Lytle, Milton Robinson, Frank Atkins, J. J. McRoberts, J. W. Weatherford, Fountain Owsley, Garland Lewis, J. H. Platinum wire has been drawn down so fine by Mr. H. P. Read, of Brooklyn, as to be invisible to the naked eye, although its presence upon a perfectly white card could be detected by the touch and could be seen by the aid of a small magnifying glass when the card was held in such a position that the wire cast a shadow.
